Making the trip to Australia as part of their annual vacation, Jo and John Kinser are looking forward to Mayworth where they will be teaching some of their latest dances.

Jo says they have seen many different styles and interpretations of line dancing throughout their travels and look forward to seeing the different ways we interpret the music in Australia.

“We are expecting to see some wonderful dancers and hope to meet as many as we can. We already know a few of your choreographers. We are very good friends with Simon and Roxy who have stayed with us in the UK on a number of occasions.

“We also know of Michael Vera-Lobos and Chris Watson, but have never had the pleasure of meeting them in person.”

Jo has been to Australia on a number of occasions

“I travelled around Australia in my younger days and absolutely loved every minute of it. John has never been there but has always wanted to visit. So I am looking forward to showing him around.”

While they hope to be able to stop by some socials when they are here, they are also keen to find time to just relax.

Apart from Mayworth, they will be visiting Sydney and hope to make it up to Brisbane as well.

Jo and John are from the Cambridge area of the UK. Jo started line dancing in 1990 and then went on to compete in line dance competitions in Europe and the US. She has won many awards in both line dancing and choreography competitions.

As well as line dance classes, Jo enjoys teaching Ballroom, Latin and West Coast Swing. She also runs her own massage business specializing in treatments that many line dancers would enjoy – from Deep Tissue and Sports Massage to Hot Stones and Reflexology.

John started dancing in 1996 as a hobby and continued on to win many choreography competitions.

He also teaches Ballroom, Country, Latin and Swing. John has been in the US Air Force for over 25 years.

Together they have travelled the world, judging competitions and teaching their dances in Malaysia, Singapore, Austria, Germany, Mexico, Canada, the US and China.

And they have choreographed many successful international dances including local hits such as Drivin' Me Crazy, Rah-Rah Ooh La La, Bad Influence and I Want That Man (with Simon Ward).

We hope they enjoy their visit down under and will catch up with them again after Mayworth to hear all about it.
